First in line was Deer so Jalydiumps took the piece of brown colored fur and laid it over Deer. This is why the deer are brown.
Then he took some more fur of different shades of browns and black and covered some bears. This is how the brown bears, black bears and grizzlies got their colors.
Next was Raccoon. Jalydiumps cut strips of black to lay over Raccoon. This is how Raccoon got his stripes and mask.
Jalydiumps continued this for a long time until he began to run out of the multi-colored fur. Almost all of the animals had colors. Jalydiumps had only one small piece of black left. He looked down and saw a small mudhen.
Jalydiumps told Mudhen, "I'm really sorry Mudhen. This is all of the color I have left."

Jalydiumps took the small patch of black and laid it on Mudhen's head. This is why the Mudhen has a black head and the rest of him is grey.

From that day on animals have had different colors, thanks to the great chief Jalydiumps!
